

I work with all people I think I can help.

Christian Wolff, Psy.A.
920 NW 21st Avenue
Suite B
Portland, OR 97209
503-381-2032

www.ChristianWolff.com
deftears@gmail.com
christianwolff_ma@msn.com

Licensed Psychologist Associate

Professional Interests / Specialties:

I have a strong interest in helping others think for themselves, believe in themselves, feel for themselves and make choices comfortably within relationships. I encourage people to reconsider their belief systems and to challenge the belief systems of others, including the prevailing beliefs and values of our society. I provide services to people who are smart, not-so-smart, discouraged, weary, withdrawn, powerful, brave, angry, shocked, sad, creative, eccentric, ordinary, confused, indecisive, addicted, disgusted, stuck, and afraid. In the language of conventional psychiatry, I treat a full range of disorders related to anxiety, depression, bipolar disorder, psychosis, addiction, and personality disorders. I have long included Buddhist Psychology and Zen techniques in my work and believe that it has contributed to the success of my clients.

Education:

M.A. Clinical Psychology, Washburn University, 1993; B.S., Psychology and Interdisciplinary Social Sciences, Kansas State University, 1985. Psi Chi & Phi Kappa Phi academic honor societies.

Background / Experience:

I have worked since 1979 in state & community psychiatric hospitals, mental health outpatient clinics, and in private practice; providing crisis care, psychological evaluations, clinical supervision and consultation with emphasis on the empowerment of people through psychotherapy. I have a wealth of experience providing services to people from a very wide range of personal and cultural backgrounds.

Professional Affiliations / Activities:

Radical Psychology Network
International Society of Political Psychology
Psychologists for Social Responsibility
Oregon Board of Psychologist Examiners (Activist)
American Mental Health Alliance – Oregon

Wheel Chair Access: No